

Statement on Academic Integrity*

ANZSA thrives on the circulation of new and emerging ideas, bringing researchers, educators, and practitioners of all ranks and many kinds of affiliation together for a free exchange of ideas. Such an exchange requires a high degree of academic trust. Given the circulation of work-in-progress that the conference fosters, it is important for all members to follow established citation and copyright guidelines in handling the intellectual property of others, including all abstracts, papers, and talks presented at each conference, therefore:

- Always obtain permission before citing unpublished work heard or read at the conference;
- Never recirculate another's work in your own scholarship or teaching without the author's permission;
- Treat paper or seminar abstracts in the same way as papers read or circulated;
- Follow the ANZSA Social Media Guidelines for digital distribution, in real time or in retrospect, of the content of panels or seminars.

Mar 2018

---

* ANZSA wishes to thank the Shakespeare Association of America for the use of their policies as the template from which the ANZSA statements have been developed.